DETAILED ACTION

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the Amendment filed 11 June 2007. Claim 15 has been amended, claim 16 has been canceled, and no claims have been newly added by this amendment.

Election/Restrictions

2. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 1-30 in the reply filed on 11 June 2007 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that examining all the claims would not place a serious burden on the Examiner. This is not found persuasive because of the distinct inventions in the application. The three groups could be separate inventions without dependency on the others. See the previous office action for more detail regarding the different inventions. Moreover, all the independent claims contain unrelated subject matter. For example, the claims are directed to immersion liquids comprising many different properties.

Specification

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: Immersion liquids with siloxane polymer for immersion lithography.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 15, 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Switkes et al (2002/0163629) in view of Rolland et al (7,029,832). Switkes et al discloses a system [Fig 5] comprising: an optical illumination module 500 to project an illumination beam 505;

a mask 520 located in a path of the illumination beam and having an optical pattern to superimpose the optical pattern on the illumination beam;

an optical imaging module 510 located to receive the patterned illumination beam and to focus the patterned illumination beam to an imaging plane;

a wafer stage to hold a wafer 550 at the imaging plane; and an immersion liquid 530 filled between the wafer and the optical imaging module to transmit the patterned illumination beam to the wafer.

Switkes et al does not expressly disclose the immersion liquid comprising a siloxane polymer.

Rolland et al discloses an immersion liquid comprising a siloxane polymer. [Col 6, lines 57-59: The immersion liquid comprises a siloxane polymer PDMS, which has the structure $[-\text{Si}(\text{CH}_3)_2\text{-O--Si}(\text{CH}_3)_2\text{-O-}]_x$, where x is a positive integer number.]

At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the siloxane polymer of Rolland et al as the immersion liquid of Switkes et al, for the purpose of compatibility with the clean room environment and the semiconductor manufacturing process [col 6, line 59 - col 7, line 3].

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 18 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: There is no prior art that discloses, in combination with all the other claim limitations, the polymer comprising $[-\text{Si}(\text{CH}_3)_2\text{-O--Si}(\text{CH}_3)_2\text{-O-}]_x\text{-Poly}(\text{t-Butoxyl Acrylate})_y$ where x and y are integers.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 15 have been considered. The Examiner relies on Rolland et al for the teaching of the newly added limitation "siloxane." Applicant's arguments are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
